

Faubus Picked by 3rd Party for President

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he did not authorize anyone to nominate him as a presidential candidate for States Rights Party.

The national States Rights Party chose Faubus as its presidential nominee during a weekend convention at a suburb of Dayton, Ohio.

A States Rights Party spokesman had told newsmen of "previous commitments" from Faubus about acceptance of the nomination. The spokesman, Dr. Edward R. Fields, also said Mrs. E. L. Bishop of North Little Rock had carried the governor's acceptance to the convention.

Faubus told his news conference that "it is all news to me."

He said he was interested only in Democratic nomination to a fourth term as governor of Arkansas. Faubus last week filed as a candidate in the summer primary elections.

The governor said he did not know Mrs. Bishop, but it was possible she was a woman who talked to him recently in his office. He said he did not give her any acceptance to take to the convention.

Faubus also said he has corresponded with Fields, a Louisville, Ky., chiropractor.

The governor said his woman visitor mentioned the nomination. "I told her I wouldn't be interested in anything of this sort at this time and that I was only interested in running for governor," he said.

"I didn't tell them a flat no, so assume by that they thought I might accept."

Faubus added: "I assume I will hear from these people and when I do I will clear it up and if you are interested, I will give it to you."

In conclusion, the governor asked a newsmen: "Is that plain enough?"

Asked about his plans to visit Los Angeles April 1 and address another group which is plugging him for the Democratic presidential nomination, Faubus said he is undecided whether to go.

Mrs. Bishop was not available for comment.

Fields also had said Faubus could run for president and governor at the same time.

The Party nominated John G. Crommelin, a retired Navy rear admiral, as its vice presidential candidate. Crommelin, who is seeking Democratic nomination to a Senate seat in Alabama, said at Votumpka that he was "completely in the dark" about the nomination.

Delegates from 28 states showed up at the party convention here over the weekend. Many of them sported Faubus for President buttons. Fields said the meeting was held at a secluded lodge at near-by Miami, Ohio, when Dayton hotels refused to book a large group.

Navigation Is Not Too Distant

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An Army Engineer said today that navigation on the Arkansas River is not as distant as some believe.

Col. A. M. Jacoby, district Engineer, told a meeting that "plans are working along well on schedule" to restore navigation on the river.

Jacoby said in his talk to the Little Rock Engineers Club that some new details about the navigational project will be disclosed this week.

He said Brig. Gen. William Whipple, in charge of the Army Engineers' southwest division, is expected to release these details. Jacoby gave no indication of what will be disclosed.

Navy Seeks Reason for a Collision

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Navy today sought the reason for a baffling, clear-night collision in which a Swedish freighter rammed a destroyer escort and almost tore it in two.

Two reservist crewmen of the USS Darby died and another was seriously injured when the prow of the SS Soya-Atlantic knifed into the naval vessel Saturday at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay.

The weather was clear and the captain of the Darby reportedly was on the bridge at the time.

Lawyers for the Soya-Atlantic, which had been outbound for Venezuela, said the merchant ship came from the Darby from the starboard side, was showing her port light, and that the Darby's task was "to keep out of the way."

The Navy, however, detained the slightly damaged freighter until it can complete an inquiry by a special board that began after the Darby was towed into drydock before dawn Sunday.

Aboard the destroyer escort as she returned from a 16-day training cruise with 120-odd reservists were Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), Assistant Navy Secretary Richard Jackson, and the commander of naval reserves, Rear Adm. Robert T. S. Keith.

The Soya-Atlantic, a 16-265-ton tanker and ore carrier, was empty except for 10,000 tons of water ballast in her oil tanks.

17 Persons Meet Death by Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen persons died violently in Arkansas in the week ending at midnight yesterday.

Seven died in fires, six in traffic mishaps, three in shootings and one in a logging accident.

John W. Crono, 32, of Sardis, was shot to death accidentally yesterday when his shotgun went off while he was climbing a fence near Benton.

George C. Steeking Jr., 25, of Memphis, died yesterday of injuries received last Monday when the car in which he was riding plunged into a ravine between Hardy and Pocahontas, Ark.

George Chandler, 60, Negro died Saturday night in a fire which destroyed his two-room house in Little Rock.

Ernest Smith, 53, of Watson, was killed Saturday when a log rolled off a truck he was loading near McGehee.

Spring Off to Slow Start Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring is off to a slow start in most of the eastern half of the nation.

Although skies were clear in most areas, it was chilly as far south as northern sections of Florida on the first full day of the new season, which started officially at 9:43 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Sunday.

With a heavy snow covering over wide areas in the Midwest, temperatures were below freezing in most of the north central region and edged near zero in some areas. The coldest air was centered around the upper Mississippi Valley, with a low of 6 above in Alexandria, Minn.

The mercury dipped to 36, above in Tallahassee, Fla., and it was freezing in Atlanta and Louisville and many other Southern cities. Miami's early morning low was in the 50s. Light snow fell in Norfolk, Va.

Snow flurries fell in the cold air from central Illinois southward to the Appalachians, north-eastward into New York and westward into lower Michigan.

Temperatures were near or above seasonal levels in most of the western areas, with the warmest weather in interior sections of California and the desert regions of Arizona. Readings were in the 60s and 70s after Sunday's high of 96 in Yuma, Ariz., and a record springtime mark of 89 in Fresno, Calif.

Four Youths Hurt

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Dwain Mason, 16, of Russellville died in a hospital last night of injuries suffered in a train-car wreck on Highway 64 yesterday.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A car struck a Missouri Pacific train at a crossing on Highway 64 yesterday, injured four teenagers and killed one.

George Chandler, 60, Negro died Saturday night in a fire which destroyed his two-room house in Little Rock.

Ernest Smith, 53, of Watson, was killed Saturday when a log rolled off a truck he was loading near McGehee.

Kai shek Renamed by Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was reelected without opposition today in a third six-year term as president of Nationalist China.

Flags of the republic blossomed in Taipei. Firecracker barrages were set off throughout the country.

The National Assembly, sitting as the nation's electoral college, gave the 73-year-old leader a rousing 1,481 votes out of 1,509 ballots cast. The remaining 28 ballots were blank — an anti-Chiang expression — and were declared invalid.

The National Assembly will meet again Tuesday to elect Vice President Chen Cheng, 62, to his second term. He also is unopposed.

The president and his running mate will be inaugurated on May 20.

The Nationalist constitution prohibits a third term for the president and vice president, but in order to keep Chiang in office the prohibition was suspended until the national regime recaptures the Communist-held mainland.

28 Awards to Members of Cub Pack 92

Twenty-eight awards were presented to members of Cub Scout Pack 92 at their Blue and Gold Banquet held in the cafeteria of Brookwood School last week.

Receiving Dener Awards were David Morris, Jerry Puyreay, and Tommy Summer, while Assistant Dener Awards went to Kenneth Plumley, Phil Ross, and Randy O'Steen.

Gold Arrow Awards were presented to Allen Morris, Jerry Still, David Jones, Jimmy Turner, Tommy Summer, Kenneth Plumley, Larry White, Mike Monroe, Joe Walshall, Kim Caldwell, Edward Bode, and Randy O'Steen.

Those receiving Silver Arrow Awards were Allen Morris, Jerry Still, David Jones, William Myers, and David Frith, and Webster.

Awards went to Edward Bode, Remmell Nunn, Jerry Monroe, Larry Brown, and Michael Atkins. "Building Life and Character" was the subject of a talk made by special speaker Joe Jones, who aimed his message at the sub scouts in a particularly appealing way. Approximately 125 attended the banquet including cubs, their parents, past and present cub scout leaders, and Brookwood teachers and their families.

W. R. Caldwell is Pack Master of Cub Scout Pack 92, and Den Mothers are Mrs. Billy Morris, Mrs. Edwin Walshall, Mrs. Jesse Morris, and Mrs. Denny Ross.

Special Treatments

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Expend Queen Farah is taking special treatment which doctors believe gives at least "50 per cent assurance" that she will provide a male heir for Iran's throne.

A royal court spokesman confirmed Sunday that the 21-year-old third wife of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi is expecting a baby.

A court source said the baby is due in October. The nature of the treatment to bring a boy was not disclosed.

Rickover Awarded

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's nuclear submarine chief, received the first annual Wendell L. Wilkie Award Sunday in ceremonies at Indiana University. The award, named in honor of the 1940 Republican presidential nominee, is for research in liberal arts. It is presented by the Wilkie Foundation.

Court Sets Aside 18 Year Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court in a 5 to 2 decision today set aside an 18-year prison sentence imposed on a Bald Knob tavern operator for the fatal shooting of a member of the Air Force.

The majority ruling reversed the second degree murder conviction of C. E. (Doc) Everett and sent the case back to White Circuit Court for a new trial.

Everett was found guilty of slaying Troy Lee Burks at "Doc's Club" in Bald Knob in mid-December, 1958.

The Supreme Court majority said Circuit Judge Elmo Taylor erred on three points, among them allowing the state to introduce testimony about knives found in the cafe although no connection with the slaying was shown.

The opinion said Burks, stationed at the Little Rock Air Force Base and two civilian companions, John Burger and Milton Brady, arrived at Everett's place after an afternoon of drinking.

The three were boisterous and when Everett tried to remonstrate with them Brady reached across the counter for the proprietor, who then shoved the customer from his stool, the opinion said.

A general scuffle followed and Everett was using a pistol to club Burks when the weapon discharged. Everett contended the shooting was accidental.

The Supreme Court noted that feeling was high in the community after a bitterly contested wet-dry election and said Everett petitioned unsuccessfully for a change of venue.

The court did not pass on whether the change should have been granted but confined its ruling to the points on which it said the trial judge erred.

It said only purpose of the testimony concerning the knives was "to inflame the jury and induce in their minds a belief that the defendant was trying to frame a defense which in truth and in fact the defendant at no time presented."

The other two points concerned attempted impeachment by the prosecution of certain witnesses, which the Supreme Court majority said should not have been permitted.

Justice Jim Johnson wrote the majority opinion. Chief Justice Carleton Harris and Justice Ed F. McFaddin dissented.

Broadcasters Favor Self Regulation

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Broadcasters Assn. has called for industry self-regulation rather than legislation to curb the practice of payola.

A resolution passed Saturday at an ABA meeting noted recent suggestions for federal legislation in the light of current payola scandals, but favored self-policing to halt criticism and improve radio's position.

Another resolution paid respects to Harold E. Fellows, National Broadcasters Assn. president who died recently.

ABA President Kermit Richardson of Malvern was instructed to tell Arkansas senators that the association endorsed Robert E. Lee as a convention speaker, for re-nomination to the Federal Communications Commission.

Another speaker was John F. McGehee, vice president for radio of the NAB.

The two-day Broadcasters Assn. meeting was held at Mather Lodge on nearby Petit Jean Mountain.

Reds Propose Partial Ban for Five Years

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP)—Semyon K. Tsarapkin of the Soviet Union said today his proposed moratorium on small underground nuclear tests should remain in force for an initial research period of four or five years.

Tsarapkin said the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union should consult at the end of this period if a joint research program by then had failed to produce a method for policing underground tests.

But he stressed that he was "very optimistic" the scientists would produce results within four or five years.

Tsarapkin gave this estimate in clarification of the two-nation proposal he introduced into the 16-month-old three-nation talks Saturday.

The two interrelated parts of Tsarapkin's proposal were:

1. The Soviet Union would accept President Eisenhower's plan for a treaty banning only those nuclear tests which can be policed with existing scientific methods.

2. In return, the United States and Britain would join the Soviet Union in a moratorium—a promise to refrain from conducting the small underground tests not explicitly banned by the treaty—while conducting scientific research to extend detection methods underground.

The partial ban was first proposed by President Eisenhower Feb. 11. Western sources said that if the Soviet actually favor safety provisions acceptable to the U.S. and British governments, the 17-month-old nuclear test ban conference may be on the threshold of achieving a treaty.

After introducing the Soviet proposal, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told the Western delegates his government would allow some on-site inspections to guard against the small underground explosions.

The Soviets said their plan also included acceptance of a Western proposal for joint East-West scientific studies of ways to detect the small underground blasts, which the West says give seismic readings that cannot be distinguished from those given by the numerous small earthquakes the earth experiences constantly.

Tsarapkin's move shifted the whole emphasis of the conference back to an old and difficult problem—the fixing of quotas for the number of test-free, on-site inspections the three powers would allow on their territories.

Both the Soviet proposal and President Eisenhower's call for banning all test explosions in the atmosphere, on the surface of the earth and in the oceans to remove any health danger from fallout. The ban also would apply to all underground tests having a seismic reading of 4.75 or more.

The factor added by the Soviets is the moratorium on underground tests below that 4.75 threshold. Without such an agreement by the three powers, Tsarapkin said, a partial treaty would be an invitation to conduct small underground tests. If any tests at all were allowed, he claimed, the treaty itself ultimately would break down.

Augusta Grocery Store Robbed

AUGUSTA, Ark. (AP)—Police reported today that two men held up Murphy's Grocery Store and took $40 from the owner, Mrs. Ruby Murphy.

A six-county search was begun by State Police and the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Murphy said that a man of about 48 entered the store and demanded the money while a second youth waited in the car. NO PICKUP

Weekend of Crashes Takes Lives of 15

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifteen persons were killed during the weekend as private planes crashed from Maine to California.

Four persons from Allentown, Pa., died Sunday when a plane owned by a flying club crashed while the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing near Kingston, N.Y.

The victims were Ralph R. Peters, 63; Karl H. Schmidt, 33; Linda Schmidt, 16, and Oliver T. Rex, 37.

At Fullerton, Calif., Leon M. Boissereau watched a light plane piloted by his son, Leon Jr., 23, suddenly plunge into a home and explode. The home was that of the flier's uncle, Emil Boissereau, 61, his wife, and three children hurried safely from the house, which was destroyed. Boissereau Jr. was killed.

John Oman III, 53, head of a big construction firm, crashed with an employe, Sam Lindsey, both of Nashville, Tenn., while attempting an instrument landing during a light snowstorm near Nashville. Both were killed. They were home-bound from flying Argentine Ambassador Emilio Donato del Carril to Muscle Shoals, Ala.

At Kankakee, Ill., a single-engine plane was wrecked during a snowstorm, killing Sidney E. McGinly, 51, of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

At Fort Worth, Tex., a student pilot, Mahmood Saud Barghouti, 26, from Jordan, was killed in a crash while trying to land at Russell Field, where he was enrolled in a flying school.

A pilot who telephoned friends and said he would fly over their ranch home died Sunday with a woman companion when the plane crashed on the ranch near Fort Worth.

25 Farmers to Plant 225 Acres in Peas

About 25 farmers attended the meeting last week at City Hall to discuss practices for growing Monarch Blackeye peas.

Farmers attending the meeting agreed to plant 225 acres which is enough to assure them of a market again this year according to County Agent Calvin Caldwell.

Representatives of the Arkansas Frozen Food Company were at the meeting and discussed the contract with farmers for this year. The company will pay $75 per ton for the peas again this year. If farmers grow as many as 500 acres of peas for the company in this county the price will be $75 per ton.

Farmers wishing to grow peas under contract may contact Elmer Smith in Hope.

Racial Rioting in S. Africa Leaves 30 Dead

VEREENING, South Africa (AP)—Twelve thousand African Negroes protesting the white government's compulsory pass laws, besieged a police station today. Officers' side opened fire. Eyewitness said the front ranks of the crowd went down like topknots.

Unofficial reports placed the number of dead at 34. Brig. C. J. Els of the Witwatersrand police gave a figure of 30 dead and 100 wounded—and said that was a conservative estimate.

Later, police officials upped the estimate of dead to "nearly 50."

One police officer described the scene: "A world war battlefield—bodies lay mangled and sprawled all around." A Johannesburg news photographer commented: "I took pictures of more bloodshed than I have ever before seen in South Africa."

The barrage drove back the crowd. Police called in armored cars and jet fighter planes to break up the demonstration.

It was part of a national campaign billed as nonviolent and aimed at abolition of the pass laws that all nonwhites in South Africa must carry.

But violence erupted at Sharpeville, a native quarter near Vereeniging, which is 30 miles south of Johannesburg.

Two hours after the shooting, ambulances still were going back and forth to hospitals in Vereeniging. Hospital officials refused to disclose casualty information.

About 25 police were besieged inside the police station by the Africans. When the Africans began to stone the station, the police opened fire.

The rioting was part of the start of a Negro passive resistance campaign to tie up the nation's commerce and industry.

Demonstrators in Johannesburg, Capetown and other cities marched to police stations with their passes and dared police to arrest them.

Drastic measures were taken in Vereeniging after tear gas failed to break up the crowd, enraged by the killing of one African leader and the wounding of at least four others. The mob had tossed stones and injured several policemen.

Then thousands of men and women, shouting the nationalist cry "Africa," besieged Sharpeville police station. Sharpeville is a native location where thousands of black Africans live.

Jet aircraft screamed down in an attempt to frighten away the Africans. At Bophelong, which lies nearby, police made baton charges and used tear gas against demonstrators.

Police described the situation as tense and sent armored cars to patrol African townships.

Postman in a Lift to Census Taker

WASHINGTON (AP)—The postman gives a lift to the census taker this week, delivering advance questionnaires for the 1960 census to every occupied dwelling in the land.

Sixty million copies of the four-page form have been delivered to 35,000 post offices. The Census Bureau is paying the Post Office Department about 2 cents to handle each piece, a total of $1,200,000.

The forms are to go into the mail next Friday and Saturday. Every household should get a copy by next Monday. Each postman will get a stack of the undelivered forms, enough to leave one at every dwelling on his route.

Each family is to fill out the form before the arrival of the census taker. The census begins April 1, and will continue through the month. Most families will be visited during the first two weeks of April.

The census taker will copy on forms of his own the information given on the advance form. The idea behind the advance questionnaire is to give everyone time to ponder the questions and provide accurate information.

New Rule in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Former Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake today told Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke he is ready to form a new government for Ceylon.

The British-educated Senanayake's conservative United National party won only 50 seats in the 151 lower house in Saturday's parliamentary elections, but it was the biggest winner.

The leftists took a beating in the election.

Each Present Wore a Mark of Their Bond

NEW YORK (AP)—On the surface, the gathering Sunday night in a Bronx hotel looked like any other reunion—clusters of men in a smoke-cloaked room shouting happy greetings, slapping one another on the back, and drinking toasts.

Inside their sleeves, each of the men wore the mark of their bond—a number tattooed in blue on the left forearm.

The numbers were burned there more than 15 years ago when the men were prisoners at Auschwitz-Buna in Poland, one of the most horrible Nazi concentration camps.

"They didn't know our names," recalled Leon Kerslein, who now owns a butcher shop in Brooklyn. "They called us by numbers."

Kerslein's mother, father, six brothers and two sisters were exterminated in Nazi concentration camps.

The gathering was the first — and probably the last—reunion of the former prisoners. Some of them carried photo showing young cadaverously thin men with shaven heads in blue and white striped uniforms. The pictures were of themselves as slave laborers in 1945.

Most of the men were in their 30s and 40s. Many had entered the concentration camp as teenagers.

"Those who survived had to be young," said Ernest W. Michael, chairman of the dinner. "If you were old, you didn't stand a chance."

The group — almost 1,000 men and their wives—plans to start a drive for a scholarship fund for children of former inmates. A court-directed settlement resulted in payment of more than seven million dollars to the former prisoners by the I. G. Farben Co. which made artificial rubber at Auschwitz-Buna during World War II.

"We would like to enable as many children as possible to have the education we were denied in the Hitler era," Michel said.

Sitdowns in 8th Week, No Letup Sign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The eighth week of Negro anti-segregation demonstrations began in the South today with no sign of an immediate solution.

Authorities appeared more than ever determined to maintain law and order. Negroes — especially the younger ones—showed growing impatience with the slowness of court action in furthering the equality.

Boycotting of stores operating segregated lunch counters was proposed by Negro groups in Savannah, Ga., and Lynchburg, Va. At Durham, N.C., the Rev. Douglas E. Moore announced lunch counter protest leaders will meet in Raleigh April 15-17.

In Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins said he thought it was "unfair and morally wrong" for a department store owner not to allow Negroes to patronize one part of the store while being permitted to trade in other sections.

The governor delivered a statewide, radio and television address Sunday to try to calm racial tensions stemming from sitdowns in several Florida cities.

Collins conceded the department store owner has a legal right to single out one department "and say he does not want or will not allow Negroes to patronize that one department. But I still don't think he can square that right with moral, simple justice."

At Charlotte, N.C., Thurgood

Marshall, chief counsel of the National Assn. For Advancement of Colored People, said he believed people taking part in sitdown demonstrations cannot rightfully be convicted of trespassing. He conceded it is uncertain whether a store owner can be required by law to serve Negroes as well as white persons.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money-back guarantee.

First Archery Tournament

The Dyke Springs Archers held their first local Field Archery tournament at Dyke Springs Sunday afternoon with a very nice crowd in attendance.

The tournament was shot in two different classifications, with Charles Gough, Dick Hoggard and Faye James finishing first, second and third in the 175 class. In the 100 class, Jimmy Boswell was the winner with Mitchell LaGrone finishing second and Bob Neville third.

In the 175 class, Roy Warren and J. D. Boswell barely missed the awards class with Warren being out by only 4 points and Boswell by only 10. Junior Boswell, and Roy Dale Fry were just out of the running in the 100 class, finishing 4th and 5th.

In the women's division, Mrs. Roy Warren was high with Mrs. Roy Dale Fry second.

The club has announced that it plans to have another tournament soon and that in this next tournament there will be more awards given in more different classifications. There will be awards in the 6-75 class, the 75 to 124 class, the 125 to 174 class and the 175 to 249 class. By this method, even the very rank beginner will have an equal chance to win an award by shooting only with those of his ability and experience.

Anyone interested in archery is urged to join in the fun. The club meets in the Armory every Thursday night and the field range is available for shooting at any time.

She Is Writing an Essay On the Modern Teen-Ager

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a teen-ager in high school. For our annual yearbook I have been asked to write an essay which I plan to title "Are Modern Teen-agers So Bad?" Could you please give me your opinion on this subject as I feel with your wide experience your opinion would be of interest. — A Modern Teen-ager

Dear Modern Teen-ager: I once spent many weeks with the teenage gangs of New York City for the purpose of writing a series of magazine articles on causes of juvenile delinquency.

The Children's Court and reformatory were second home to these kids. They talked freely because they trusted me. I soon learned that they were amoral rather than immoral. They did not know the difference between right and wrong. They lacked any sense of values. What had been their upbringing?

I sought out their parents. Some I found in corner saloons, others in cockroach-infested tenements. There was but one conclusion to draw after interviewing them. They, not their children, were bad. They had no conception of what it takes to make a good parent. How could they teach their children the difference between right and wrong when they didn't know themselves? How could they tell what went on in the minds and hearts of these youngsters if they themselves lacked heart and mind?

When you ask, "Are Modern Teen-agers So Bad?" I can only answer: Ignorant — yes. Bad? — no!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm a divorcee with two children. I have 1 Hope.

No Motive in Smith Murder and Suicide

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police Chief Eugene Smith's reasons for murdering his wife and then committing suicide apparently died with him.

Authorities today had advanced no motive for the shootings. The bodies of Smith, 47, and his 45-year-old wife Mary were found early Saturday morning sprawled in the kitchen of their modest home.

A coroner ruled Smith shot his wife three times with his .357 caliber magnum service revolver, then shot himself in the head.

Speculations about a motive included possible marital difficulties, the pressure of the integration controversy, in which Smith was a central figure, and the burglary conviction of Smith's 20-year-old son.

Asst. Chief R. E. Glasscock, who headed the investigation of the murder-suicide, assumed the post of acting chief. An examination will be given later to determine a permanent successor to Smith.

The 6-2, 200-pound Smith had been on the Little Rock police force 25 years, and had gained a reputation for courage and coolness in the face of danger.

Twice he led club-swinging officers into battle with segregationist forces protesting the admission of Negroes to Little Rock Central High School. He seemingly did not need name-calling by segregationists, who referred to him as "Billy Club Smith."

Some accused him of being a fool of integrationists. Smith contended he was not enforcing integration but protecting life and property.

Eight suits totaling $500,000 were filed against Smith by persons who charged their civil rights were violated in a clash between police and segregationists last Aug. 12, in which 19 persons were arrested. The suits still await final determination.

Raymond, Eugene Smith, 20, the chief's son, pleaded guilty Friday in Circuit Court at Senary to bur-chev are complicated by his 1,800-mile trip through France. Wherever he travels by train, the tracks will be guarded hours in advance and a policeman posted every half mile. A security train will precede Khrushchev's. Arrangements were tightened after a Paris-Marseille train was derailed recently, apparently by sabotage.

In Paris police and plainclothesmen will line Khrushchev's routes through the city, and firemen will be placed on the roofs.

Wherever Khrushchev travels by car, he will be accompanied by 120 motorcycle policemen.

Famous Author Is Asphyxiated

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Best-selling author Tom T. Chamales, 35, died to appear in court today to answer charges that he beat his wife, singer Helen O'Connell, died Sunday in a violent end to a violent life.

He died in his smoke-filled apartment despite a desperate effort to find his way to safety.

Firemen said he was asphyxiated while trying to escape. Struggled hand-prints on the wall showed where he had sought to find his way to a door or window.

Miss O'Connell was in a state of shock after she was told the news.

She asked a friend: "How shall I ever tell little Maria?"

Helen Maria, the couple's 14-month-old daughter.

During their stormy three-year marriage, police were called to glory and patty lynx in connection with a drug store break-in and the theft of a musical instrument from Harding College, where he was a student.

He received a $250 fine and a two-year suspended prison sentence. His parents were in the courtroom.

The youth, who is married and the father of two children, subsequently was expelled from Harding College.

The Smiths returned home about 10:30 p.m. Friday, a neighbor heard what she thought were shots in the Smith house. Saturday morning she found the bodies and summoned police.

The Smiths also have a daughter, Mrs. John M. Davis III of Little Rock.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

their home five times. Chamales' first wife, Constance, charged in her 1957 divorce that he "enjoyed more for drinks than for his family."

He leaves two sons, Thomas and Gerald, by his first marriage.

This Fox Was Mad
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A neighborhood fox hunt in suburban Palo Alto Sunday turned into a fiasco.

Billy Knostner, 10, spotted the fox first. It bit him.

Adults slipped the fox, but because it appeared ill, into the garage of Walter Vail Horn called the sheriff's office.

Deputies came and shot the fox with a sawed-off shotgun.

Some pellets went through the garage door and hit William D. Knostner, Billy's father, in the head. He was 100 feet away and they caused only scalp wounds.

The fox was rabid, so Billy must undergo painful rabies shots.

France Plans Heavy Guard for Mr. K

By DAVID MASON
PARIS (AP) — France is arranging an unprecedented security screen to insure that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is hit by nothing heavier than confetti during his visit starting Wednesday.

Only Yugoslav President Tito's visit two years ago prompted security measures approaching those being prepared to protect the Soviet leader.

Mindful of Khrushchev's complaints that he was kept away from the people during his U. S. tour, the French are trying to be discreet. But the curtain will be there every time Khrushchev steps out in public.

Postponement of the visit and then the shortening of the trip forced complete rearrangement of plans.

The postponement also meant an extension of forced vacations being given some 200 political refugees, mostly from Iron Curtain countries.

These were picked up two weeks ago and sent to Corsica and other islands.

Bradley May Be Too Good for NIT Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Chances are the Bradley Braves, the name team of the National Invitation Basketball tournament for four years, won't be back next year to defend their championship.
The reason? They'll probably be too good.
The NIT has had the pleasure of Bradley's company since 1957 because, despite the Braves' outstanding teams, they weren't quite tough enough to win outright the Missouri Valley Conference title.
The Braves came here to win their first NIT championship in 1957 when St. Louis filled the Missouri Valley's commitment in the NCAA tournament. The last three years the Braves were available because a fellow named Oscar Robertson made Cincinnati unstopable in the Missouri Valley race.
But now Oscar is through at Cincinnati and with such aides as sophomores Chet (Orange Juice) Walker and Mack Herndon, and Junior Al Saunders returning, it seems unlikely Coach Chuck Orsborn can help having a conference winner.
Only backcourt ace Mike Owens and Dan Smith are left from the 1959-60 Bradley team that won its second NIT title in four years Saturday afternoon with a whirlwind rally that crushed Providence, 88-72. And what the likes of Herndon, Walker, and Saunders plus sophs like Ed Wodkin, Mickey Tieman, and Lee Edwards showed the Madison Square Garden crowds last evening was a team that could be the Bradley of next year.

Celtics Win But Hawks Drop a Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Celtics were just one game away from the Eastern playoff title of the National Basketball Assn. today, but the battle for the Western division crown was all tied up between Minneapolis and St. Louis.
The Celtics, defending world champions, crushed the Philadelphia Warriors in Philadelphia Sunday, 112-104, to run their margin in the best-of-7 Eastern playoffs to 3-1.
In Minneapolis, the Lakers came from behind to defeat the St. Louis Hawks, 103-101, to even the Western division series at 2-2. All the teams are off tonight, but Tuesday the Eastern series resumes at Boston and the Western playoffs move to St. Louis.

Foxy Frank Lane Is at It Again

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Foxy Frank Lane's at it again with his volatile temper reacting immediately in the heat of the battle over the Sammy White trade and threatens to shake the verbal scolding for the off-season deals that deprived Cleveland of 19-game winner Cal McLish and 300-hitting Minnie Minoso.
Now Lane may find himself checked over his latest transgression in an attempt to trade Cleveland into a pennant with Commissioner Ford Frick a likely candidate to settle the stalemate.
Lane swapped catcher Russ Nixon and utility man Jim Marshall for White, an outstanding receiver with the Boston Red Sox.
While, however, pulled Lane up short, he retired.
"The deal's off," said Lane assuredly Sunday.
"Lane hasn't got a foot to stand on," countered Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris, emphasizing that he considers the trade closed.
"I'm returning Marshall and want Nixon back," Lane said.
That's not all Lane may want back. The way Minoso's changing Chicago's hitless wonders, Lane probably is having second thoughts about the trade that sent the Cuban to the American League champion White Sox.
Minoso, a 302 hitter last season at Cleveland, stroked a double and four singles Sunday as the Sox blasted 21 hits and won their seventh exhibition in eight games with a 12-2 thumping of Baltimore.
Lane's Indians were walloped 20-5 by the San Francisco Giants who rapped 21 hits including three homers by Willie Kirkland to bring their record to 6-2, best among National League clubs.
In other games, New York belted Cincinnati 13-5, Detroit beat Milwaukee 9-7, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 4-3, Los Angeles defeated Washington 7-5, Pittsburgh topped Kansas City 6-3, and Chicago's Cubs nipped Boston 3-2.

Little Rock Trying for Ball Team

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Businessmen, baseball men and fans meet today in an effort to gather enough financial support for a Southern Assn. baseball team.
Little Rock has been offered the franchise surrendered by New Orleans. League president Charlie Hurth will meet with the group of boosters.
A member of a steering committee to bring baseball back to Arkansas said last night there was a good chance that enough support would be mustered to take on the franchise. The group needs $50,000 immediately.
"It looks very good to me," said Allan Berry, manager of Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium. "People from all over the state have been calling and they all say the same thing—count me in."
The Boosters are trying to establish a fan-owned ball club, in which any number of shares of stock can be purchased. Such a move, they believe, would provide financial backing as well as heightened interest in the team.
If sufficient operating capital can be raised at today's meeting, Hurth will line up Little Rock to begin league play April 16 with the other SA teams. If not, the league may have to operate this season with seven clubs.

Rafferty, 117-1, Scotland, 13. (European, British, British Empire Bantam title).
Berlin — Gustav (Bubi) Scholz, 164-2, Germany, outpointed Mike Holt, 173-4, South Africa, 10.

Hull, Plante Reign in Hockey Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago's Bobby Hull and Montreal's Jacques Plante reign today as the National Hockey League's scoring champion and top goaltender respectively, after hairbreadth calls in the last regular season games.
Hull won the league scoring title with 81 points, getting a goal and an assist Sunday night as the Black Hawks tied the Boston Bruins 5-5. He trailed the Bruins' Bronco Horvath by a point going into the game, but the Bruins' late goal gave him the lead.
Hull's late goal in the first period, and didn't score, even though he made a dash from a hospital X-ray room to play the third period.
However, the Bruins' attack kept Chicago goalie Glenn Hall from the Vezina trophy, which goes to the goalie whose team allows the fewest goals. Hall and Plante were tied with 175 goals in the final game, but Plante allowed only three in a losing 3-1 effort against the New York Rangers.
The Toronto Maple Leafs beat the Detroit Red Wings 3-2 in the other game. The loss kept Detroit in fourth place, and Chicago finished third.
Under the Stanley Cup playoff system, Montreal, which finished first, plays third place Chicago in a best-of-seven semifinal series, beginning Thursday at Montreal. Second place Toronto has a similar setup against Detroit, starting at Toronto Wednesday night.
Plante's trophy was his fifth straight, a record, and like Hull's award—the Art Ross Trophy—brings a $1,000 bonus from the league.

Yanks Have Maris Playing in Left Field

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Roger Maris, a blond kid with a quick grin and a ready bat, has played fewer than a dozen games in left field. And none was at Yankee Stadium, where haze, sun and a fadeaway fence make up what may be the most treacherous left field in the majors.
But left field is where the New York Yankees have him played.
Maris, 25, heretofore has been a hitter who played right or center through four years in the minors and three with Cleveland and Kansas City. He came to the Yankees, along with Kent Hadley and Joe DeMaestri, from Kansas City in a winter swap for Don Larsen, Mervyn Thorneberry, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern — who had his black day in the left field of Yankee Stadium in the 1958 World Series.
"I've played maybe 10 games in left field," Maris admitted, "and that was with Cleveland a couple of years ago."
Still, Maris hasn't had too much trouble playing left in the exhibition games.
"Most of that's luck," he said, "but at least I'm getting half a notion of where to stand out there."
"It's a tricky field in the Stadium, and you can get hurt with the low walls."
The well built-left-handed hitter, who has hit in all eight exhibition games and leads the Yankees with a .375 average, has a weak arm at the moment and has been cautioned to take it easy throwing the ball.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight
The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.
The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Arkansan Named to All Tournament

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Arkansas State Junior College basketball player Sam Parker was named to the all-tournament team Saturday at the National Junior College Athletic Assn. basketball tournament here.
The Beebe, Ark., team lost out in quarterfinal play. Parsons, Kan., won the championship, beating Tyler, Tex., in the final game, 73-71.

Buckeyes Rate Nation's Best College Team

By HARRY JUPITER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes—youth, talented and confident—are the 1960 collegiate basketball champions.
The underdog Ohioans, playing before a loudly partisan California crowd, upset Cal's defending champions 75-55 Saturday night in the finals of this year's NCAA tournament.
Cal's Golden Bears fought until the final buzzer but they were not in Ohio's class. It appeared that the Bears had given their best effort the previous night in knocking off Cincinnati in a semifinal that matched the two top teams in The Associated Press national poll.
Ohio State, rated third in the poll, Saturday night looked like the finest team in collegiate circles since the two-time national championship club of the University of San Francisco, a team that ran off 60 straight victories.
But most startling about the new champions is their youth and poise.
Four of the starting five will be back next year.
Returning are All-America Jerry Lucas, voted most valuable player here as a sophomore, two other sophs who also received MVP votes, Mel Nowell and John Havlicek, and junior Larry Siegfried, the Buckeyes' top scorer a year ago — before Lucas came along.

After Wreck Flight Speed Set for Plane

B JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has set flight speed limits on Electra turbo-prop airplanes pending further investigation of last Thursday's Indiana air tragedy. Sixty-three persons died when an Electra disintegrated in flight.
The Federal Aviation Agency announced the limits Sunday night in advance of a meeting it scheduled here Tuesday with representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Board, operators of Electra planes and makers of the planes and their power plants.
FAA Administrator E. R. Quessada said the planes should be operated at not more than about 316 miles per hour at altitudes up to 15,000 feet. Slower speeds were set on a sliding scale at higher altitudes.
The Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which makes the Electras, said their normal cruising speed is 400 miles per hour. A Lockheed spokesman said 130 of the planes have been delivered to airlines. The FAA said seven airlines use Electras.
Thursday's accident was the third involving a four-engine Electra. One operated by American Airlines plunged into New York's East River on Feb. 3, 1959, with a loss of 65 lives. Another Electra of Braniff Airways crashed last Sept. 29 near Buffalo, Tex., with a loss of 34 lives.

Man Drowns in the Mississippi

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—A Memphis man drowned yesterday when his boat capsized in a Mississippi River inlet about five miles northeast of here.
R. D. Diehl, 61, had been fishing with his son, A. R. Diehl Jr., 37. The son reached land by pushing himself along the bottom of the inlet, only seven feet deep. The accident occurred 15 feet from shore.

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China announced today it has signed a border agreement and economic aid program with the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal.
Peiping radio said Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and visiting Premier M. A. Koirala of Nepal signed the document. No details were disclosed.

Arkansas Team in AAU Tournament

DENVER (AP)—Play begins tonight for the first of 28 teams competing in the 53rd AAU Basketball Tournament, a stepping stone to the Olympics in Rome this summer.
Tonight's first four games begin with Salt Lake City playing Washington, D. C. The other contests match the U. S. Army all stars against Seattle Insurers, Denver against Little Rock, Ark., and San Francisco Investors against Wichita Links.
The Little Rock Claret Boys qualified for the tournament by beating the Fort Sill, Okla. Cannoneers 113-95 in Fort Smith March 14.
The Cannoneers were the Oklahoma AAU champions.

talk to him." Bokker's prospective client was the only prisoner. He was an unkempt-looking youth in his early twenties. A week's growth of beard concealed most of his features. Bokker was caught by the youth's pale blue eyes — and a bruise on his left temple.

"You sent for me?" he asked the prisoner.

"You're the lawyer?"

"Bokker's my name."

"Yeah, sure. You got to get me out of here."

"In this town, drunk and disorderly conduct is a misdemeanor."

"They're charging me with resisting arrest." The youth touched the bruise on his temple.

"If you plead guilty, you'll be fined $25. Another twenty-five, if the judge sees fit to fine you for resisting arrest."

"Can't you get me out on bail?"

"There's no particular point in that. You'll only have to stay here overnight. In the morning—"

"In the morning I'll be dead!" cried the prisoner.

Bokker looked at him sharply. "That bruise?"

"The prisoner made a gesture of dismissal. "That's nothin." The deputy buffaloed me with his Navy gun. It's—he looked nervously past Bokker toward the door leading to the Marshal's office — "It's the marshal," he whispered. "He recognized me."

"He's arrested you before?"

"No — no. He knows I know him from" — the prisoner's voice faltered — "from the war."

"The war's been over four years and more," said Bokker. "You weren't old enough then."

"I'm twenty-two."

"So you were 16 in '63."

"Sixteen in '63, when we... it didn't finish."

Bokker's eyes narrowed. "In '63, when Quantrell destroyed Lawrence?"

"Trow was there!"

"I know he was. And you?"

"I ain't saying I was and I ain't saying I wasn't. But the marshal was there and I—I know it. That's why you got to get me out of here."

Bokker looked thoughtfully at the young prisoner.

"That this young man had been at Lawrence he did not doubt. Quantrell's men had been young. It was common gossip that the guerrilla leader had many 15 and 16-year-old boys in his command. Even boys of 14. They had received an early baptism of blood and some of them had returned to their farm homes after the war to resume peaceful occupations. Some of them had gone on to make names for themselves as bank and train robbers.

The younger James boy could not be no older than this youth before Bokker. And one or two of the Youngers of Harrisonville were not more than 20 or 21 even now.

Bokker said suddenly, "What's your name?"

"Uh—Smith. Bob Smith."

"All right, call yourself Smith," Bokker said impatiently. "Now tell me what makes you think Fletcher Trow would kill you if you stayed in here overnight?"

"He's got to!" exclaimed the young prisoner. "I know who he is. I—I know what he done at Lawrence."

"What did Trow do in Lawrence, outside of killing people?"

"He was a captain. He made me—"

Smith suddenly stopped. "I ain't a-going to tell you that I'd be dead inside of an hour if Trow knew..."

Bokker had to restrain himself from reaching through the bars and seizing the young former guerrilla by the throat. He said carefully, "Have you got any money?"

"Yeah, sure. Here." Smith thrust a hand into his pocket and brought out a roll of greenbacks. Bokker counted the money.

"Sixty-one dollars. Enough for your fine, but not for bail if the judge sets it high."

"Get me out!" said Smith earnestly.

"I'll do my best. I'll have to talk to the judge."

Judge Paisley had a small office in the rear of the general store, but he was not in it when Bokker looked in. Bokker finally received word that the judge was down at the depot.

"Bokker," Judge Paisley greeted him, "you'll have a res. for a couple of days. I'm running down to Abilene on the afternoon train."

"I've been retained by a prisoner," Bokker said.

"That so? Anything important?" The marshal hadn't made any report.

"It's a drunk and disorderly charge. Also, resisting arrest."

The judge looked at Bokker curiously. "I've been trying these misdemeanor cases in the morning—the entire batch at one time. I don't like to convene court for one special case."

"I know—that's why I ask for bail."

Judge Paisley frowned. "There is little enough co-operation between the marshal's office and the court. I don't want to antagonize Trow any more than I already have... Very well, I'll set bail. Will a $100 be all right?"

Bokker nodded. "The prisoner doesn't have that much. But I'll add some of my own money to it."

"You'll probably lose it. He'll get on his horse and leave Pawnee City the minute he gets out."

"I'll risk that."

Cuba Warmly Welcomes U. S. Envoy

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal got a cheering welcome back from 500 Cubans Sunday but ran into a new barrage of anti-American blasts from two top Castro government officials.

Arriving with a smile, the American envoy made no mention of finding the official atmosphere as hostile as when he left Havana in a protest two months ago.

"I am glad to be here," Bonsal told an airport crowd that included some foreign diplomats.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government did not send an official representative, but this was not unusual.

Bonsal said he would "do everything possible" to improve Cuban-American relations, now at a dangerously low ebb.

Only a few hours before the ambassador's plane landed, Cuba's economic czar, extreme leftist Ernesto Guevara, told a radio audience the nation faces "economic war" with the United States.

Guevara hailed the trade agreement Fidel Castro signed recently with the Soviet Union as the best trade pact Cuba has ever made. Guevara insisted it had no political implications.

Guevara asserted that American dollars are not really important to Cuba. He said their only value is for purchases abroad and Cuba can do that with sugar. Cuba's trade pact with the Soviet Union calls for Soviet purchase of five million tons of sugar in the next five years. One fifth of it, about 75 million dollars worth, will be paid in cash, the rest in goods.

Another blast charging the United States with economic aggression came from President Osvaldo Dorticos.

The Cuban people will die "in revolutionary trenches" rather than submit through hunger to U.S. economic aggression, the president told a crowd of 17,000 at a rally to raise funds for arms and planes.

The crowd of 17,000 chipped in 250,000 pesos—$250,000 at the official rate in Cuba but a lot less on the world money market—and thunderously cheered Dorticos' assertion that Cuba would buy arms and planes "from whatever country makes and sells them."

Bonsal's return to Cuba—opposed by some U.S. congressmen—came generally as a surprise to the American colony in Havana. Some Americans here claimed it would be interpreted as weakness on the part of the U.S. government.

Chiang Again Named

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek will be handed a third six-year term as president of Nationalist China without a contest. The deadline for nominations expired at midnight with the 73-year-old president and his running mate, Vice President Chen Cheng, alone in the field. The National Assembly will formally elect Chiang in secret balloting Monday.

Rights Issue in 6th Week of Debate

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A combination of rival plans for protecting Negro voting rights was put before the Senate today as it began its sixth week of debate on civil rights legislation.

An amendment offered by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) and a dozen other senators would provide alternative methods for preventing denial of the right to register and vote because of race or color.

Under one method federal district courts could appoint referees to register Negroes qualified under state law and to make sure they were allowed to vote and have their vote counted.

As an alternative, the President could appoint federal enrollment officers to carry out a similar function.

Clark described the amendment as a compromise designed to reconcile the views of those who favor the administration's plan for court-appointed referees and those who advocated the appointment of administrative officers by the President.

In the House, where civil rights legislation also is up for action, backers of the referee plan predicted its approval there. A vote on it may come Tuesday after further attempts by Southern opponents to modify it.

EGGS AND LIVABILITY UP... FEED COSTS DOWN

Manwarings prove birds on feed containing Aureomycin have better livability, average 8 more eggs per year at a savings in feed costs of 1 1/2 cents per dozen eggs

The famous Manwaring Leghorn Farms at Mentone, Indiana, have been operated by four generations of the family and, today, are under the expert management of Charles, Miles and Richard Manwaring.

Every phase of the operation of this establishment is dedicated to the production of quality chicks: good breeding, good nutrition and good management. In 1956, Manwaring Leghorn Farms became the authorized Northern Indiana and Western Michigan producer and distributor of Kimberchicks produced by Kimber Farms, Inc., Niles, Calif. Since then they have increased their sales by more than 500%. The new Manwaring hatchery has a capacity of 3,500,000 chicks per year.

Saves feed—reduces stress
Charles Manwaring reports: "Through our use of AUREOMYCIN in feed we have not only saved on feed where egg production is concerned, but we have also been able to reduce stress among our flocks of 30,000 Kimber Leghorn breeders. Total adult mortality rate or flock depletion, which includes culling, runs 9% a year. This was much higher before we began using AUREOMYCIN.

"Where additional stress develops in the course of vaccination, AUREOMYCIN has been especially effective in sustaining appetite. This was not the case before our use of AUREOMYCIN—we just had to make the best of it then."

Controlled test on Aureomycin
Recently the Manwarings conducted a controlled test on 700 birds to further pin-point the value of their use of AUREOMYCIN in feed. "We showed an increase of 8 eggs per bird per year in the birds receiving AUREOMYCIN in their feed," Mr. Manwaring states. "Livability was better and we had a saving of 1 1/2 cents per dozen eggs in feed costs."

Results are impressive
These results have especial significance in view of the high standards of the Manwaring operation. This is a farm where efficient management and quality production are long-established basic policies. All expenditures must fully justify themselves in terms of profitable operation and quality chicks. AUREOMYCIN in feed has proved its value to the Manwarings.

If you, too, want to build up and maintain the health of your flocks, talk to your feed manufacturer or feed dealer. Ask for feeds containing AUREOMYCIN. American Cyanamid Company, Agricultural Division, New York 20, N. Y. ©AUREOMYCIN is American Cyanamid Company's trademark for chlortetracycline.

Charles and Richard Manwaring inspect one of their exceptional layers. Says Charles: "AUREOMYCIN not only reduces stress... it also saves on feed where egg production is concerned."

Healthy, 7-month-old pullets—the result of good breeding, good management and good feeds containing AUREOMYCIN.
